THE DEMOCRATS.

They Nominate Bryson Again for Mayor,

And Support Him With a Very Weak Ticket.

Scenes and Incidents of an Uproarious Convention.

for Superintendent of Streets, Glowns for City Attorney, McMania for City Trea-urer, Gaff y for City Assessor —"E: 14 Owne Gengs."

The Democratic City Convention as-embled in Turnverein Hall at 10 o'clock esterday morning. Some time previous to be hour named the motley crowd that a political convention usually calls together were lounging in the hall, and congregated about the entrance talking as earnestly as though the fate of the universe were suspended in the Democratic balance. The pended in the Democratic balance. The candidates (except Mayor Bryson) were all on hand, of course, doing the hand-shaking and back-patting act to a turn.

Judge Taney, chairman of the City Central Committee, took the stage and called the convention to order at 10:25. In contradistinction to the usual crude derices of the chairman's table, some thoughtful Democratic soul had provided a neat hardwood gavel and (to pound on) a little slab of marble resting upon a velvet mat. There was also a pitcher, supposed to con-

There was also a pitcher, supposed to contain water, and a tumbler.

A. C. Clark officiated as secretary.

The delegates scrambled to their piaces in a more or less hilarious manner, the representatives of various wards being loomed up as large as a life-sized photograph.

A LOOK AROUND.

In the Sixth Ward delegation it was noticeable that Mr. Cuddy, though not present in the flesh, or possibly even in the spirit, was represented by his attorney, T. B. Brown, Esq. J. Mary Ann Brooks loomed up as large as a life-sized photograph.

The chairman invited members of the City Central Committee to take seats on the platform, which invitation three or four of them accepted.

TEMPORABY ORGANIZATION.

Thomas McCaffrey nominated for temporary chairman, W. R. Burke.

J. Marion Brooks nominated Col. Thomas B. Brown.

Some loony moved that the secretary interest was more than the feeble enor was ignored.

The secretary then proceeded to call the roll, which scored 87 votes for Brown and 46 for Burke.

The vote was made unantigous, and T. J. McCaffrey and C. R. Patterson were appointed a committee to escurt Mr. Brown to the chair.

Mr. Brown, according to his opening talk, looked upon this convention as one of the most important, if 'not the most important, ever held in this city. It is incumbent upon the Democratic party to secure an upright most important, if not the most important, ever held in this city. It is incumbent upon the Democratic party to secure an upright city government [if it can] to interpret the new city charter. Mr. Brown admiringly skimmed through an editorial from a recent number of the Herald, which advocated the selection of a purely business administration—which will look after the material interests of the city, leaving questions of religion to the church and questions of morals to the freside. The people expect this convention to but up the best material it has and, in this event, if was the opinion of the chairman "that we will win."

The address was chopped off a little prematurely by some too previous delegate, who tendered a paper that the chairman thought should go to the Committee on Resolutions. He then finished with a few words about the business of the convention, but the divine officials had fied, and there was no well-timed round of applause to finish up with.

GETTING TO BUSINESS.

A. C. Clark and A. Ramish were chosen temporary secretaries (Mr. Kelly, recently under arrest for embezzling from the Iroquois Club, having modestly withdrawn his name).

Several motions were sprung for the appointment of a Committee on Credentials, a Committee on Resolutions and a Committee on Organization and Order of Business, some favoring one and some favoring all three at once.

Mr. Brooks finally solved the riddle by moving a substitute for all motions, that a committee of nine—one from each ward—on organization be appointed.

While the motion was pending, Statesman Chandler proved himself out of order by moving that a committee be appointed to keep order.

man Chandler proved himself out of order by moving that a committee be appointed to keep order.

A motion for appointment of sargeants-at-arms was also choked off until Mr. Brooke's motion if the appointment of a Committee on Credentials had been put and carried.

Then a motion of Mr. McCaffrey for the appointment of a committee of nine on platform and resolutions was adopted.

A motion for the appointment of three sargeants-arams finally prevaited, and a recess of ten minutes was taken to allow the Chair to make his selections, about one-third of the convention crowding upon the stage to offer valuable suggestions.

The Chair finally beat a retreat to a committee room, a companied by McCaffrey and Secretary Clark, turning the key on the eager horde without. There the true remained for a good half hour, making the selections in peace. Returning to the convention at 11:30 and calling it to order, the chairman announced the following

APPOINTMENTS :

APPOINTMENTS:

Sergeants-at-Arms.—Sam Haskins, A.
Robinson and Henry Stephenson. It was suggested that L. Jacobs, as the only colored man in the convention, be added, which was done.

On Oredentials.—S. Berliner, chairman; J. E. Frick, A. Davis, W. H. Juenger, George E. Dickson, H. J. A. Stuhr, J. J. Naughton, S. Levy, Dr. S. M. Harris.

On Permanent Organization and Order of Business.—Thomas McCaffrey, chairman; C. K. Patterson, B. Mason, John Clancy, Joha I. Redick, J. G. McDonald, P. M. Scott, P. Baliade, W. H. Workman.

On Platform and Resolutions.—R. Dunnigan, chairman; Thomas Savage, J. O. Kopblet, Charles Forman, W. J. Brodrick, J. M. Brooks, A. Lindenfeldt, A. Orfila, B. Chandier.

An adjournment was then taken till 1 p.m.

During the noon recess the wire-pullers congregated in various mossback saloons, and several attempts were made to put up a slate, but, to all appearances, the scheme failed, and when Chairman Brown called the body together at 1:25 they were as much at sea as in the forenoon.

John Bryson, Sr., was not present in the hall, but his friends were in strength, and the "boodie-hunters" were unanimous for the present Mayor, while the harmony gang fought vigorously for an outside man.

On motion, the chair appointed George Fitch page.

The report of the Committee on Credentials was read by Chairman Davis of the committee:

in case of an absent delegate, the majority of the delegation from the precinct cast the vote for the same."

PERMANENT ORGANIZATION.

PERMANENT ORGANIZATION.

The Committee on Permanent Organization and Order of Business recommended that the temporary organization be made permanent, and that the following be the order of business:

reer of business:
First—Nomination for Mayor.
Second—For Superintendent of Streets.
Third—For City Attorney.
Fourth—For City Treasurer.
Fifth—For City Assessor.
Sixth—For City Clerk.

Sixth—For City Clerk.
Seventh—For City Au ditor.
Kighth—For Tax and License Collector.

Central Committee.
Twelfth—Nomination of one member of the Board of Education from each ward and one member of the City Central Committee.

AMENDING THE REPORT. Mr. Jacoby moved to amend the section of the report providing for the election the City Central Committee.

Mr. Jacoby moved to amend the section of the city Central Committee. Instead of the City Central Committee and the committee shall select its own chairman. This motion was seconded by Mr. Violet. A heated discussion followed. Many of the members of the convention seemed to be bitterly opposed to the selection of a chairman by the committee. Several voices called for the amendment by "Mr. Brooks of Missourt."

At this stage of the proceedings J. Mary Ann got the floor and attempted to instruct the cenvention as to how they should vote. Before he got through yells for order sounded from all points of the house, and the Chair found himself in a frightful suarl, "Order." "sit down," and cat cries resounded through the hall. A tail delegate in the center of the room got on his dignity, and in a miunte-and-ahalf speech, said he had not come to the convention for the purpose of listening to people who wanted to talk just for the fun of hearing themselves talk, the was greeted with cheers, cat calls and hisses. The Chair thumped his gavel industriously, but falled to bring the convention to order, and the secretary began to call the roll, when order was gradually restored. The vote stood:

For Brook's's amendment, 73; against, 79. The Chair declared the motion lost, and the convention adopted the report as a whole.

Statesman Hanford at this point attempted to read a resolution providing for the regranization of the party by precinct leagues, and general confusion followed. He was knocked out by cries of "Sit down," "Hand it in to the secretary. "G.ve it to the Heraid," and so forth.

Statesman Hanford sat down, and J. Mary Ann Books of the Committee on Platform and Resolutions stated that his report would not be ready for ten minutes. He asked the convention to hear Col. Hanford's resolution, but the Chair choked him off, and

THE PLATFORM.

WHEREAS, the people of the city of Los Angeles have adopted a new charter, which has been ratified by the Legislature, and which will be the fundamental law of the municipality, the Democratic party pledges itself to carry out in good aith.

by our city, an oledges itself and its candidates to faithfully carry out this resolution.

Resolved, that this is a favorable time for the city to build an outfall sewer to the sea, of sufficient capacity for a city of a quarter of a million inhabitanta, and, that we believe the people of this city are now prepared to indorse any honest and practical plan for the completion of that important improvement. We pledge our candidates to move upon this work at once.

Resolved, that the work of paving our streets should be energetically pushed forward until we have a city whose streets will compare favorably in this respect with those of the most advanced Eastern cities.

Resolved, that the eight-hour law shall be applied to labor on all municipal works; and that the law of the State, excluding Mongolians from employment upon State work, shall be rigidly applied to the public works of this city.

Resolved, that owing to the rapid growth of the city of Los Angeles, greatly increased school facilities are required, and we are in faver of multiplying school buildings until avery child in the city shall have the opportunity of attending the public schools.

Resolved, that we readopt and resultment plants of the 28th of last November upon which we went triumphantly before the people. Especially do we readopt and reiterate the following planks:

First—That the Democracy of Los Angeles, true to the interests of their party, are in favor of that policy in local government, which will maintain the good order of society and secure every citizen in the enjoyment of his rights, and to this end we declare that all ordinances having for their object the suppression of vice and the closing of disorderly houses, shall be rigidly enforced by the police arm of the municipal government.

enforced by the police arm of the municipal government.

Second—That whilst we do not object to the imposition of as high a license upon the retail liquor business as it will bear, on the principle of increasing the municipal revenues from the traffic in non-essentials, we are opposed to the policy proclaimed by our opponents that disorderly dens may flourish if they will only pay enough for the privilege. The Democracy of Los Angeles do not believe in encouraging disorderly houses at any price, and are firm in their belief that the way to suppress resorts obnoxious to good order and to public morals, is to revoke their licenses and summarily close them.

Resolved, that we are in favor of party

Resolved, that we are in favor of party fealty and party responsibility.

Resolved, that we indorse the administration of Mayor Bryson as a wise, honest statesman Hanford stated that he was sorry a section recommending that work on all public improvements be given to residents of Los Angeles in place of new-comers, had not been incorporated in the platform. Nobody seemed to take much interest in the matter.

A motion limiting each delegation to five minutes in which to present its candidate was adopted.

NOMINATIONS.

Col. O. H. Violet got the floor and made bombashe speech, in which he stated that the last city election had convinced the people of Los Angeles that this city is not Republican, as it has been heretofore be-lieved. He then placed in nomination for Mayor James B. Lankershim, and the gal-lery howled.

* Maj. Burke arose and stated that he was confident that he was about to name the successful candidate. "I know, gentlemen and Mr. Chairman, that Mayor Bryson has made mistakes, but who has not? But in placing John Bryson before this convention I know that he is the strongest man that we can select."

JOHN I. REDICK sconded the nomination of John Bryson in glowing speech. He said that the only a glowing speech. He said that the only thing that can be said against him is that he has placed two of his sons on the police force. "But this is not a point against him, for I tell you that he made his sons carry a hed dor his fine new building on the corner of Spring and Second streets. They were workingmen as much as anybody. The whole thing is put up by the Republicans, who would abuse Jesus Christ should he be elected Mayor by the Democrats. It is a shame to think of putting any other man in nomination as against Bryson. You can't elect any other man, and if you don't nominate John Bryson, you are gone."

J. Mary Ann Brooks seconded the nomination of Bryson, and in his speech gave Mr. Humphreys of the Council a slap without naming him, but intimating that he was the principal cause of Bryson's failure to reerganize matters on the Democratic principle. Statesman Chandler got the floor and started off by saying that he (Chandler) is "a peculiar kind of a Democrat." His language was not elegant, but he succeeded in giving poor Bryson several hard siaps on the strength of having put two of his sons on the police force.

Maj. Burke jumped to his feet, and in strong language denounced the hoodiums who were creating the disturbance. The speaker moved to relegate the lobby to the tear portion of the hail, and then, if they did not keep quiet, to put them out. The motion was put and carried, and the disturbing element was hustled to the rear, where they howled as vigorously as ever.

Mac Abbott made himself numerous on the floor of the convention.

Blackmalier Carl Browne of the Cactus, who was present on the stage, attempted to inject a resolution into the piatform on the siy, but was buffed.

The collection from delegates for the benefit of the widows, orphans and Democratic politicians amounted to $75.50.

Boss Lacy was not "numerous" at the convention to any great extent.

The Cuddy lambs, with "Mac" Abbott in the lead, occupied prominent places in the hall, but they were most frightfully snubbed by the more respectable members of the party.

There were a number of preminent Republicans present, who seemed to take a deep laterest in the circus.

The fair Verona Baidwin occupied a seat in the hall for a few moments, and was supposably engaged in advocating the rights of her "down-trodden" sex.

"Mac" Abbott attempted to get the floor while the vote for City Attorney was being polled, and he was vigorously hissed.

In the Eighth Ward convention there were 13 candidates for Councilman, and they were giving offices away right and lefa.

A NEW CHAMBER.

the commercial, agricultural and general interests of Southern Caifornia.

Mr. Lambourn then addressed the meeting in favor of immediate organization, as did also Messrs. Sibley, from Rediands, and Carlisle, from The Palms.

Maj. Jones thought that there were not enough present to do suything. He said that upon careful consideration the committee had come to the conclusion that, unless 20 organizations came into the chamber and were willing to pay $25 per month, he did not see how they were to carry on the work, which would require an expenditure of about $500 per month to keep up an exhibition and pay the running expenses.

keep up an exhibition and pay the running expenses.

At this point Mr. Workman was called out, and Judge Knight fook the chair and called for expressions to opinion as to what was best to do. He himself favored perfecting the organization on a modest basis and with as little expense as possible, and lettins it grow up and expand as it became necessary. A start had to be made, and now was as good a time as any. Remarks in favor of organization on the plan proposed by Judge Knight were made by Messrs. Cunningham, Frazer, Cartisle and Craddock, some favoring the opening of an exhibition, and others insisting that there was work enough for the present by Messrs. Cunningham, Frazer, Carisia and Graddock, some favoring the opening of an exhibition, and others insisting that there was work enough for the present without this feature. Short addresses of the same general character, were also, made by Maj. Jones and Messrs. Cunningham, Whittimore and Hughes.

Mr. Dunton said that, as he understood it, the Cnamber was now organized, and all there was for the delegates to do was to make the temperary officers permanent, ist the various associations appoint their members of the Executive Committee, and go to work. He made this as a motion, and it was seconded by Mr. Lambourn.

This raised the point as to who were members and who were entitled to vote, and a long debate ensued, in which it was developed that those present were not vary clear on the subject themselves. It was finally brought to a head by the chairman-cailing on those who were ready to pledge their organizations to become members of the chamber to announce the same, whereupon the delegates from Pasadena, Elsinore, San Bernardino, Redianas and Riverside said that they would have to report back to their various organizations before they could do anything.

Mr. Dunton said that they should now go into an election for the only officer that there was to elect, the president, all the others, by the constitution, being elected by the Executive Committee. The delegates present constituted the chamber so far, and they had this right. He therefore moved that Mr. Workman be made the permanent president, and he was unanimously elected.

Mr. Lambourn moved that the delegates report back to their organizations that they and in the Hittition fee at the next meeting. Carried.

THE REVENUE CASE.

WITNESS DAVIS STILL MAKES "A CLEAN BREAST.

The Defense Goes at Him Savagely but Fails to Knock Him Out-A Little Breeze Between the Law yers-Attorney Grady's Bad Break The W. Moore Young revenue case was resumed in the United States Court yester day morning at 11 o'clock. There is no per of doubt that the revenue officials namer of doubt that the revenue omerais have stirred up a big case in connection with the management of the Fruitvale Wine and Fruit Company of Fresno county.

Discrict Attorney Denis, contrary to the usual procedure, began the prosecution with the introduction of his principal with ness, the ex-superintendent of the concern. Ell B. Davis, and this witness has been or the stand continuously ever since. The first two days his testimony was a narration of two days his testimony was a narration of the company's operations, and the method by which he, under the directions of the company, as he alleges, defrauded the Government by manufacturing brandy upon which the tax was not paid, and faisifying the returns made to the Government.

Yesterday the winces was turned over to the tender mercies of counsel for the defense and subjected to a most rigid cross-examination. He was upon the stind all day, and bore his long slege with great self-possession and physical endurance.

The case continues to grow in sensational interest, several spicy episodes occurring during the day to enliven the musty atmosphere of the uncomfortably close and small courtroom.

DAVIS UNDER CROSS-EXAMINATION.

The cross-examination by Mr. Grady was largely directed to an attempt to show that W. Moore Young, the defendant, was not cognizant of the crooked transactions described by the witness, and to discrediting Davis's credibility as a witness. The witness said in response to a volley of questions, which Attorney Grady excitedly threw at him, that he never knew that Young did not own more than ten shares of stock in the company. He had had a good many conversations about the distillery with him and other directors about the number of hours it was to run per day, and Young was aware that it was running at night as well as day. He could not fix the exact dates of these conversations, but they took place from time to time during the period from September to December, 1887, and including the latter month, and January, 1889. The capacity of the distillery was 286 galions a day. A Mr. Warner was present during some of the conversations he had with Young. The winery began operations August 16, 1887, and the distillery ten days later, and ran continuously until the latter part of December, when, for a few days, they were out of wood. During that time they made about 69, 290 galions of wine and 22,000 galions of brandy, which were mostly used in fortifying the wines. They used about 5830 gallons of brandy, 150 proof, in making the wine.

Attorney Grady interrogated the witness lons of brandy, which were mostly used in fortifying the wines. They used about 5830 gallons of brandy, 180 proof, in making the wine.

Attorney Grady interrogated the witness minutely about the amount of brandy made. The capacity of the still was 266 gallons a day, which would make the 22,000 gallons the witness said were made. But, upon further cross-examination, it appeared that there was a misunderstanding between the counsel and witness, it being sworn by the witness that they had used 5820 gallons of brandy in fortifying wines, and that 2075 gallons were left in the concealed tank when the distillery closed, and was correctly reported to the revenue officers. Mr. Grady wanted to know what became of the balance of the 24,000 gallons. The witness then explained that, while the capacity of the still was 206 gallons. The witness then explained that, while the capacity of the still was 206 gallons aday, that they got only a part of that out in 150 proof. The witness which went into the wines, and the lower trades were bolled over and over several times. So that while he insisted that 2000 gallons were made, still there was only a net product of 7395 gallons, of which 5000 was 150 proof and 9075 was 100 proof.

Attorney Grady again and sgain returned to the ame question being asked over and over again. The Court sustained the objection, telling the attorney to refrain from asking the same questions more than half a dozen times.

The witness testified further that he did know that anybody but Young paid the bills. He did not know that his father had to certify to all bills as president before they could be paid. He did not know that he by-laws required him to certify to bills before they could be paid. He had never read the by-laws. Young paid out money by drafts on the treasurer, L. A. Blasingame, and the money was kept in the First National Bank of Freeno. The object of the buried tank was to hide the brandy until it could be used. Young never saw him put any brandy in it or take any out the specific purpose o

HIS PAST LIFE. The cross-examination here went into the The witness said that he had left ing him. The witness said that he had left Fresno in January, 1884, and went to San Francisco. He was raliroading there. Was a brakeman. He had been one before, in 1883 perhaps, on the Southern Pacific road. After he left the road he went to Fresno and was in a hardware store there. He was not dischaged for embezzlement. He did not know that his father had paid money for him on that account. He was discharged, but did not know for what. No reason was given.

District Attorney Denis, interrupting the attorney excitedly: That is not true.

The courtroom was instantly a scene of excitement. All the attorneys tried to L. Mr. Terry stood up in his place, which was about four feet from the District Atorney, and directly in front of the Court, and began to explain, getting excited as he talked. He started in by saying that he had not intended to charge the District Attorney with making a contract with the witness, but was simply supposing that they should show that. He finished his explanation and, turning half around, directly toward Mr. Denis, bissed between his teeth, the Court evidently not hearling it teeth, the Court evidently not hearling it neither the District Attorney:

"If you dispute my word you are a lar."
This little by-play was witnessed by only a few, and Mr. Terry sat down immediately afterward and chewed his short mustache.

Harmony being restored the witness, who had been forgotten in the excitement, became the center of attraction once more.

GRADY'S BAD BREAK.

Mr. Grady: "I will, please Your Honor, discentinue this line. I am not satisfied in my own mind about my being right in this matter, and wish time to think about it."

After Mr. Grady had subsided, Mr. Terry got on his feet again and said to the Court that he believed he had been a little hasty, and might have reflected on the District Attorney replied that if no offense was meant, none was taken, and the trial went on without further interruption.

HOW DAVIS TURNED STATE'S EVIDENCE.

trict Attorney replied that if no offense was meant, none was taken, and the trial went on without further interruption.

How DAVIS TURNED STATE'S EVIDENCE. After recess Mr. Davis was interrogated at great length concerning the material used in the winery, and then the defense went into the manner of his becoming a witness for the Government. His testimony, in brief, was as follows:

"I remember when I was arrested. I was a witness against W. Moore Young before the grand jury. I had no particular cause for doing so. I had made up my mind to tell what I knew in this matter. I talked with the revenue agent, Mr. Thomas, and Mr. Denis about it. I saw Thomas in San Francisco after I was arrested at the appraiser's office, and at Marshal Frank's office; and also a friend of mine, named Holcomb. I asked Thomas if I told what I knew, would I be prosecuted. He replied that he did not knew; I would have to take the consequences. I alse talked with the District Attorney and asked him the same question. He told me he could do nothing for me; that I wend have to make up my own mind freely, and take whatever came. I made up my mind to tell what I knew, I sent a telegram to my father telling him not to talk. I do not know that I meant anything particular, except that I did not want him to tell that I was going to ture State's evidence. I did not know what I was going to to be indicted for when I had the conversation with Thomas. I did not offer to make any statement to Mr. Denis before I did make it. Others were present at every conversation I had with him."

After some further questions on re-direct examination, the witness was allowed to leave the stand, his testimony being coucluded, and court adjourned until this morning at 11 o'clock.

HARRY'S CAPTURE.

HARRY'S CAPTURE.

The Man Who Shot Wyatt's Setter Deputy Constable Harry Johnston created quite a sensation at the opening of the new operahouse, at Pasadena, Wednesday night. Last Monday a man passed by Manager Wyatt's residence in Pasadena, and a fine setter dog that Mr. Wyatt has owned some time, ran out, in the street, when the stranger whipped out a big pistol and shot him dead. A warrant was sworn out in this city, yesterday, and thinking the man might show up at the theater, Harry Johnston was detailed to go out. Harry got a description of the fellow, and watched for him at the door of the operahouse. He failed to recognize him, and then made several inquiries. When he fell in with a Mr. Wilson, who said he knew such a man, and offered to introduce the man. They entered the thester, and a laborer named Alexander, was pointed out to Johnston, and quicker than a fash the little officer was rushing the big man out of the building. Alexander gave ball for his appearance and was allowed to go back and see the last act of the opera. He will have his trial in this city before Justice Lockwood. Dog.

Died Alone.

The dead body of an old Mexican was found in a small shanty on Alameda street, between Jackson and Requena, yesterday afternoen, and removed to Orr & Sutch's, where an inquest will be held this morning at 10 o'clock. The body was in a frightful condition, being badly swollen and covered with vernin, abowing that she man had been dead several days. The man was perhaps 60 years old, and had been in bad health for some time. He lived alone, and nothing could be learned of his death, which probably resulted from heart disease.

The Board of Supervisors met yesterday, and went out to San Juan to inspect a bridge, holding but a short session. Previous to adjournment, the board directed that $693.94 be transferred from the interest and sinking fund of 1878 to the same fund for 1878, and the Treasurer to pay the Santa Ana bridge bonds of 1878, or demand, and advertise for the redemption of the bonds of this series still outstanding.

cup of curious design. A very fine punch bowl decorated with flowers is loaned by the same; also several fine services of Nankin, Staffordshire, Canton and Delitt ware.

Dr. C. P. Murry contributes a rare reticulated plate; Mrs. J. F. Cole some beautiful blue Mexican plates and vases; Seymour E. Locke loans a cider muy belonging to Capt. Joeiah Locke, one of his ancestors, 150 years age. It is probably Bristol ware.

The articles here are so varied and so rich in an artistic sense that it is difficult to select those deserving of mention. To enumerate all is impossible. Among the large exhibits are the articles of Mrs. Dexter. Here is a punch bowl, rich in decorations, and 200 years old, a very old pligrim bottle. Mrs. Dexter's collection of tiles attracts great interest. Bich in design, they tell the story of tiling nearly 200 years ago. Five are from one of the oldest houses in Rhode island, and one from Gov. Wantan's house in Newport, R. I.

Gov. Wantan's house in Newport, R. I.

Mrs. Rayard T. Smith loans a beautiful vase; Mrs. C. F. Holder, an old blue soup tureen, and a tile from the family homestead, built in the Seventeenth Century, or about 4690, in Lynn, Mass.; also an old Delft dish, dating back 150 years. Mrs. F. F. Buen contributes a rare and finely-decorated pitcher; a tureen of artistic shape and color, and a fine batten vase. Miss Grace Wotkyns loans some fine pieces in Canton, Delft, Stafford; shire and Liverpool, all very fine and beautiful, and rich in the historical as sociations of the family. Miss Senter loans a fine English platter, and Mr. Stetson two very rare pieces of modern Scinde. Mrs. Jewett is not confined to Russia, as will be seen by a glance at her specimens of Nankin arranged here, and the grotesque Zuni water jars.

here, and the grotesque Zuni water jars.

Miss Picher contributes egg cups of Chinese pottery, which took the prize at the Centennial for decoration, some rare Copenhagen ware, and some royal. Egyptian pottery made from Nile clay. Mrs. Carr is represented here by a very old Japanese marble vase, etc.

One of the most interesting features of this department is the actual work that is going on. Mrs. St. John of Pasadena and Miss Wagner of Los Angeles decorate China here to order, take orders or illustrate the method of work. Mrs. St. John has a kiln here, and the ware is baked on the spot. Here Mr. and Mrs. Stetson may occasionally be seen producing some artistic piece, perhaps in imitation of old English ware. It is refreshing to the eye to see something really artistic in the way of this work.

The exposition or carnival, has been thing really artistic in the way of this work.

The exposition or carnival, has been such a great success that it is already of extending the time. People are pouring in from every town in other vicinity, and at the afternoon and evening concerts the hall is crowded. On Saturday evening the Academy of Sciences will give a reception to Prof. W. H. Pickering, the astronomer, who will probably make a short address. During the following days come Bussia teas, tamale lunches, indian dances, musical readings, Indian dances, there is not successful the successful readings. Indian dances, the tures on old Mexico, and an alluring and bewildering programme for each and every day.

PASADENA, Feb. 14.—IFrom our Regular Correspondent.] The astendance at the exhibit is much better, although there is still considerable room for improvement. Today a large durable of Raymendites were present and they enjoyed a great deal of satisfaction in admiring the several curiosities and relics. Capt. Chittenden still draws an army of sightnesers to his department, who seem to never grow tired in looking over the peculiar dress and utensits of the semi-barbarous tribes of the Northern Ses. The flower booth today displays a great deal of attractiveness, and many new varieties of flowers add to the perfume. At 4 o'clock Dr. Radebaugh gave another tea, and had as guesta the merry seven. Today was not celebrated as any particular day, but this did not decrease the number of visitors. Saturday, however, is the gala day, and great exertions are being put forth by the committee to make it a memorable one in the history of Pasadena. This evening a musical programme was given under the direction of Miss Dexter. Friday is Oriental day, and Occar Wilde's sunflower will be the favor.

Orange Apecials.

Last week two special orange trains left this section for the East. One left over the Southern Pacific on Wednesday night at 10 o'clock, and the Santa Fé let one off Thursday night at the same hour. The componies intended to run a regular old-fashione nies intended to run a regular old-fashioned Mississippi River steamer race, but there was a hitch some-piace, and the manarer failed to connect. The Southern Pacific's special reached the Missouri River in four days and a few minutes, and the Santa Fé will make the trip in just about the same time according to dispatches that were received in this city yesterday afternoon. The two companies have put on the war paint from general appearances, and the chances are that orange shippers will have no trouble this year in getting their fruit on the eastern market as fast as it can be picked. Col. Williamson Dunn of the Santa Fé, who has visited all of the large orange groves in Southern California during the past ten days, pronounces the crop larger and finer this year than ever before.

THE MURDER TRIAL

THE MURDER TRIAL.

Further Testimony in the Case of Pi-tro Pagliuso
The trial of Stephen Smith for the murder of Pietro Pagliuso, near Glendale, November 3d of last year, was continued before Judge Cheney yesterday morning. The defendant is a mere boy, 17 years old, and small for his age. His mother, a small, quiet-looking lady, sat by her son yesterday.

Henry T. Gage had on his war paint as counsel for the boy, and objected right and leit, leveling some of his choicest shots at Judge Cheney.

The first witness was Frank Pagliuso, nucle of Pietro. He testified through an interpreter that the day before his nephew was killed, young Smith and his companion, Carson, were on his place hunting. He charged them with trespassing, and took their guns from them. He told them they could have them be ke when they pad him $50. They did not have it, and went a way. The guns he placed in the house, and they remained there until the next day. He went to Los Angeles, and when he returned there the next day found his nephew had been killed, and the body was in the house. The shooting was done not far from the house. The shooting was done not far from the proper of the shoot of the countil had not been laid for the questions, the attorney objections and sustained others. Mr. Gage finally objected to the Court itself on the ground that His Honor had in ruling made a remark which was in the nature of an argument to the fury, which he was precluded from doing toy the constitution. His honor was slightly nettied by the attitude of the counsel, and finally told him his exception would be noted, and that was as far as connel should go.

During the remainder of the afternoon session, when the cross-yramination of Frank Pagliuso had been concluded, a mass of testmony was sought to be introduced by the Court. It was all of the same tenor, and embraced confessions made by the boys to I. Mundell, Marsha Frank Pagities had been collected, a mass of testimony was sought to be introduced by the prosecution, which was exciteded by the Court. It was all of the same tenor, and embraced confessions made by the boys to I. N. Mundell, Marchal of Pasadena, in November fast, Tommy Botelio, detective for the prosecuting attorney at the time, and Deputy Shornf Slater. In these confessions Smith acknowledged the killing of Pietro and teld how it happened, claiming that it was done in self-defense, when Pietro had raised his gun and was, as Smith thought, about to shoot him.

The trial promises to last a day or two yet, as the defense has not yet begun, its theory will be self-defense. The trial will be resumed this morning.

HUBBELL DEAD.

strong Suspicion That It Was a Case

D. B. Hubbell, the term trial juror shot at D. B. Hubbell, the term trial juror shot at Sasta Monies Saturday night under rather mysterious circumstances, died from the effect of his injuries yesterday. Hubbell, it will be remembered, went out on the train from this city Saturday afternoon, and on his way home claimed that he was robbed of $170 and shot by a small, dark man, who had followed him from the city.

Investigation in this city showed that, so far from hubbell having 1170, he was absolutely broke, and had gone into the Turt Ciub saloon but a shortytime before he went to the train, and asked the barkeeper to credit him for a drink. He had then borrowed $10 from a fellow juror named Cannon, saying that he had gambled all his moriey away and did not have enough to go home on.

Besides this rothing has ever been seen

Cannon, saying that he had gambled all his morey away and did not have enough to go home on.

Besides this, nothing has ever been seen or heard of anyone answering to the alleged murderar's description, and everyone was about settling down to the belief that the shooting was either accidental or with intent to commit suicide, when news of the fatal result was received.

Coroner Mercelith at once went down to Sants Monics to hold the inquest, but very little additional light was thrown on the strategy. Dr. McGowan made a postmorten of milhation, and gave as his opinion that death was daused from rupture of the spleen and peritonitis, the result of a gunshot wound on the left side between the sixth and seventh ribs, the bullet being found loose in the abdominal cavity. Thomas J. Newby, a real-estate agent, also testified, saying that he was at ubbell's side in less than a minute after the shot was fired, and detailing Hubbell the money, $10, in sums of $5, and that when he saw him after the shooting Hubbell the money when he borrowed from him. H. E. Bemis testified to letting Hubbell had told him that he had lied, and that he had money when he borrowed from him. H. E. Hubbell, seed $2 years, married, and a native of New York, came to his death from the effects of a pistol shot, fired by some person or persons unknown.

LAST summer, when Mr. Cuddy-then Chief of Police—was being hauled the coals by the Council, the Herald vehemently denounced every one connected with the promulgation of the charge of bribery brought against that particularly pure states-man, and referred to the Council's action as "one of the most outrageous proceedings that ever occurred in this or any other city." THE Indianapolis Journal, which being on the ground, is in a position to report the matter accurately, says that the political pressure upon Gen. Harrison is very great and constantly increasing, and that much of it is selfish and unjustifiable. That Gen. Harrison is not already broken down in health the Journal attributes to his constitutional vigor rather than to the consideration of his countrymen. It is a disgrace to the American people that such a state of affairs should be tolerated. All respectable citizens would feel very grateful to Gen. Harrison if he should set a precedent, for all time to come by sitting down upon these indecent ce seekers with much severity.

The Men and the Sack.

The Democratic Municipal Convention yesterday was a mournful affair. It reminded one of a ball given by a family in which a death had occurred between the date of the invitation and the dance, but too late to permit of a postponement of the entertainment.

The Democratic statesmen were running around like a chicken without a head. The head had been chopped off by Judge Ross on Wednesday.

From first to last they were on the defensive—a very bad symptom. The proposers of candidates, in several innces, admitted that their principals had been naughty, but promised that they would never do so any more.

Mayor Bryson was renominated. It was a rather daring thing to do, in view of what has happened since his elec-tion, but then Mr. Bryson has a piethoric sack, and, while he is not regarded as a man of reckless liberality—with his own money—yet the closest-fisted men have often been known to shell out liberally, when it comes to a question of gratifying personal vanity or ambition. Grass is very short and the lambs are hungry; so the sack was renominated. The nomination ought to have been a strong one-would have been, had Mr. Bryson possessed as much sense as he was credited with, a few months ago.

The other nominations are in the main weak—that for City Attorney specially, that for City Surveyor le so. There are one or two would-be Councilmen, to whom a careful citizen would not entrust the guardianship of burro, let alone a city ward.

While the nomination for Mayor is not very dangerous, at the same time we all know the power of boodle, in the hands of unscrupulous men, and weakness of their opponent, but must put their best foot-and their best man -foremost. We must have a nomine for Mayor who thoroughly represents the solid, respectable class of citizens Such a man can knock out Mr. Bryson and his sack. A less available man may not be able to do so.

The same argument applies to the other nominees. The Republicans can elect their candidates, if they nominate nen of whom all good citizens can approve. Unless they do this they will be defeated, and will deserve to be. Above all, let them steer clear of the Arizona's Prospects for Statehood.

The Senate having stricken out New Mexico from the Omnibus bill, there is a good probability that the other Territories will be admitted, all but Arizona, which has very little chance of getting in, except, perhaps, in consoli-dation with New Mexico, such a propo sition having met with some favor Not in Arizona, however, whose citizens would undoubtedly be violently opposed to any such fusion. The inhabitants of the sun-kissed land are very proud of their Territory, and look forward to the time when, with abundant irrigation facilities, its deserte shall be transformed into gardens and it shall take its place in the galaxy of States as one of the most promising stars.

Arizona cast the smallest vote of any of the eight Territories-only 11,539, which, at five to the voter, would give it a population of less than 60,000. The population has increased very little during the past decade, the accessions to the agricultural population having scarcely done more than make up for the falling off in the mining section there having been no mineral discover ies of importance since the Tombstone mines were found. Arizona will probably have to grow some more before she can hope to acquire the dignity of Statehood.

In now transpires, according to a statement in a Boston journal, that the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fë Com-pany declared dividends for some time pany declared dividends for some time that had not been earned. Such aplece of financial legerdemain on the part of a western mining company-might have excited little surprise, but nobody would have imagined that a staid, respectable Boston corporation would have been guilty of such a stap.

Seven States were represented by delegates present—South Carolina, Georgia, Virginia, Tennessee, Kentucky, Florida and Missouri—and letters were read from other Southern States. A conference was held with closed doors, and an address to Gen. Harrison was formulated. In substance the address says that they are loyel to the Republican party, and reside in States which upon a fair election would give their electoral vote to the Republican party by a large majority; but that such are the undue influences and frands brought to bear agalust voters that the desires of the Republican masses are constantly defeated. "We cannot doubt," they say, "that you gree with us that the fifteenth amendment should be maintained with fairness and vigor, and that you desire that such an object shall be accomplished in the interest of seven millions of American citizens, who today in the South are practically disfranchised and whose cause we represent and plead. In view of our present and prospective condition under your administration, we are profoundly in-Such being our opinion, we have ventured to bring it formally and carnestly to your consideration."

During the afternoon the address was presented to the General. It was supposed that the conference would also oppose the appointment of Gen. Mahone to the Cabinet, but nothing of the kind was done.

Gen. Harrison had a number of callers, among them were Dan. MacCauley, Seffor H. F. Gusman, Nicaraguan Minister at Washington, and Milton B. Butler who was president of the Electoral College of Nebraska.

Another distinguished visitor at Gen. Harrison's today was Hon. Cassius M. Clay, ex-Minister to Russia and second cousin to the famous orator. The venerable gentleman lunched with Gen. Harrison and family and passed an hour or more in conversation. He said to a correspondent that his visit was entirely social.

It is being talked in well-informed circles here that Senator Henry M. Teller of Colorado is sisted for the Interior Department, Information that Gen. Harrison has had Teller's name under serious consideration for several weeks, comes from a very reliable and conservative source and it is asserted with considerable confidence that tendra has actually been made to Mr. Teller.

THE YORKTOWN.

The Trial Trip of the New Gunboat

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 14.—[By the Associated Press.] The United States etcol gunboat, Yorktown, returned this morning from a trial cruise down Delaware Bay and out into the ocean. Commodors Fitzfuth spoke generally in high praise of the craft. On Wednesday a run was made straight away out to sea, and on coming back the Yorktown made a run of feur hours with a 40-knot breeze dead on, and behaved ad-mirably. Capt. Steele says she did not roll or pitch, and he never had a vessel that was or pitch, and he never had a vessel that was more plumb or steady. In another four hours run she made an average of 15.85 knots per hour, or about 20 miles, thus proving her to be a very fleet ocean craft, as well as remarkably steady one. The engines of the Yorktown proved to be perfect marvels for steadiness and power. Each engine, on the resular test, marked 187 revolutions a minute, imblying a horse-power far shead of the contract requirements, but the exact sum of which cannot be given for some days, or until the indicator cards can be computed and differentiated.

The ship was tried in every conceivable.

The ship was tried in every conceivable manner, in river, bay and ocean, and was particularly maneuvered by Capt, Steele, under direction of Commodore Fitzhugh, as particularly maneuvered by Cant, Steele, under direction of Commodore Fitzhugh, as if engaged in battle. She answered every movement of the helm promptly, and moved with most satisfactory celerity, all the time steady and solid, so that runs might be used with the very best effect in action. One of the maryels of these maneuvers was the starting of the Yorktown ahead at full speed, and backing her at full speed. This feat was accomplished in one minute and fifty-seven esconds, an extraordinary result under any circumstances. While at sea the sails were tested, and it was found that in this particular the ship was as trim and complete as in any other. The officers and crew, from the Commodore down to the stokers, are loud in their praise of the Yorktown, and believe that she will prove the pride of the new American Navy—at least, until the manusch cruisers, Baltimore, Philadelphia and New York, shall come forth to bear the American flag. Commodore Fitzhugh promptly announced the general result to the Secretary of the Navy. There seems to be no doubt that his report will be extremely favorable, and that the gunbeat, Yorktown, will be accepted and prepared at once to receive her command.

ANOTHER RATE WAR.

The Atlantic Steamship Companies
Take a Hand.

New York, Feb. 14.—[By the Associated Press.] In regard to the war between the ocean steamship companies, an evening paper says; "The first blow has been struck by the White Star Company. It is the same with the steamship lines as it is with the railroads. They have had an understanding with each other to majotain high same with the steamship lines as it is with the railroads. They have had an understanding with each other to maintain high freight rates, but one of the companies has kicked in the traces and broken the tacit agreement. The White Star people defend their action by saying that the other lines were cutting their rates slyly. Representatives of the Cunard, Auchor, Inman, Gulon and National companies are prepared for a light. If oil is not speedily thrown upon the troubled waters, the public may expect to witness the most bitter warfare that has ever broken out besween transcontinental lines. There is great anxlety on the part of agents on this aide of the ocean as to the action likely to be taken by the heads of the companies on the other side. There are indications that the trouble may extend to passenger trafficalso. In such event, both cabin and steerage rates would be cut."

Dakota Haif-Breeds Resist the Collection of Taxes.

Church's Ferry (Dak.), Feb. 14—1By the Associated Press. J Considerable excitement exists regarding the half-breed situation at St. John. It seems that vigorous attempts are being made on the part at the Rolletto county officials to collect fares from such half-breeds as are alleged to be regularly taxable. Yesterday the affeit culminated in direct opposition to the soitey of the county officials, which assumed the appearance of an outbreak. Sheriff Flymm and a posse of one man made a decent apon the settlement and succeeded at first in making a few collections. Later, however, the half-breeds assembled from all freshions, being joined by others from the reservitions.

cotions. The Sheriff realizing that he was no match for the increasing numbers of savages, retreated to St. John and called upon the local military organization for assistance. Maj. Sheriff Flynn has been notified that he will be abot on sight if he again thakes a similar attempt. Step Down.

BALTIMORE, Feb. 14.— [By the Associated Press.] The San tomorrow will publish a long dispatch from Washington, giving an eulogistic review of President Cleveland's administration and a long interview with the President Investigants and the President Investigants and the Presidents in the Investigants and the Presidents in the Investigants and Investigant administration and a long interview with the President himself on the incidents and experiences of the past four years. Among other things the correspondent says that the President feels acutely this charge. He all along has been animated by a high and serious sense of his duty to the people, and this has often prompted him to a course of action in opposition to the wishes or opinions of personal friends. It may be stated that the President is thoroughly satisfied with the practical outcome of his administration and its effect on the fortunes of the Democratic party. He is very earnest in predicting a great future for the Democracy, and in asserting unqualified devotion to the party.

The President is as firm now as he ever was in the opinion that tariff reform is the great inving issue for the Democracy was beaten on the tariff issue last fall. "Had certain conditions been eliminated from the campaign," he says, "we would have won a decisive victory." His supposed political aspirations for the future do not exist, There is no rivalry on his part between himself and anybody else. "I am in no one's way," he says, "I shall be delighted to be realieved of the cares of the Presidency. On the 4th of March next, on purely personal grounds, there will be no happler man in the United States."

As to civil service reform, he thinks it has come to stay. He says he has given it as fair trial and is fully satiafied with the results. the President himself on the incidents and results.

He is satisfied that the race problem can be worked out by the people of the South without outside interference.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—[By the Associated Press.] It is said at the State Department that as there is not the slightest wish on the part of the President or Secretary Bayard to embarrase the incoming administration with respect to its Samoan policy, it is not at all likely that the present administration will arrogate to itself the selection of an American representative at the proposed conference at Berlin, or at the proposed conference at Berlin, or that it will take any action whatever that might tend to commit the next adminis

"The German foreign office will probably take several days to consider Bayard's suggestion, and the answer, if sent by mail, will hardly reach this country before the beginning of the Harrison regime. There seems to be no good reason why the correspondence should not be conducted by telegraph, and the assumption is that Bismarck's report to the mails is simply at tick to gain time to punish the Samoans before the negotiations at Berlin begin. "In well-informed quarters here there is a suspicion that Germany has already sent reinforcements to Samoa to revenge the killing of a number of men in the recent hight with Mataafa. It is not at all unlikely that he will ultimately hear of another bloody battle. Bayard, however, has made a most vigorous protest against such a course, and has hinted that it would be scarcely worth while to hold a conference unless Germany gives practical evidence of a sincer desire to promote restoration of peace in the islands by foregoing her desire for vengeance."

Hetel hermits are not the only solitary denizens of the tilg caravansaries up town. There are in every big hotel a large number of stout, heavy-faced and over-dressed women, whom nobody knows except the waiters, and who waddle into the dining-rooms in considerable state, and take their seats at tables that have been reserved for them. Even in the Hoffman House, which is supposed to be the resort of people more or less mindane, there is a large contingent of these heavy-faced and solemn old ladies. They usu/siy run in twos or threes, and they re/age all the way from 60 to 75 years of age. As a rule they wear glittering diamonds and rich costumes. They are usually the wives and mothers of rich Western people, who have moved to the city, but have never succeeded ingetting a hold in society. They do not like the idea of living alone and unvisited in a big city house, and so they cling to the life and movement of a hotel. They are paying guests, but they are not particularly ornamental to the outsider who wanders into one of the fashionable up-fown dining-rooms for the purpose of gazing at celebrities.

THE FOOLISH AND BAID LYING.

It is just about 886 days libes a hotel, conceded by all travelers to be one of the fines in the world, was opened on the shores of Coronado Beach, and for the seith time comes the report from San Francisco that it is closed. Shakespeare is supposed to have exhausted all the varieties of liars that hyman nature can breed, but a lie that overy day for a whole year springs into lusty life as sure as the preceding day sees it refuted, is something never heard of. There is something sublime in perseverance even in a bad cause. Was it not Cato who said that a great man struggling with adversity is a sight that even the gods admire? If so, how must likely look down upon the great world beyond our borders struggling to close that hotel. Receivers, attachments, executions, foreclosures, and all other proceedings, have been invoked to help the work and yet day after day the peaky thing gets fuller and fuller of the best classes of travel. The news is wired, mailed and carried daily to a thousand points in the East and South, and the faster and wider it goes the faster the great hotel fills. Acqueding to present indications, it will have over 1600 gue to by the end of the month, if the itars will only hold up well to their work. There are now some 700 persons there, and scores of them who came only for a day have concluded to spend mouths.

For a long time the lies about San Diego did really injure it. Of late years they are decidedly beneficial, especially when fat and healthy and often enough repeated. Everyone who comes here to see how mean and poor and inexpressibly "busted" a community can be, is so aston shed at the reality that he refuses to believe what the

Gen. Bonlanger was a passive spectator of the proceedings in the Chamber of Deputies. Immediately after adjournment he lessed a manifesto to the electors of the department of the Seine. In this he Claims, the credit for his party "for the overthrow of the discredited ministry that was attempting to ensure the country with the comedy of a proposal to revise the Constitution, which, if passed by the Chamber, the Ministry well knew would be rejected by the Senate."

He proceeds: "We would not allow the Cabinet thus to deceive universal suffrage and to consecrate its usurpation. The fail of this ill-omened ministry, which hadpaly ready planned laws for the restriction of liberty, will be a relief to public conscience. It is a step further toward the dissolution of the Chamber and the convocation of a constituent assembly. After the vote on the Scrutin d'Arroadissement, Bill, which, in its author's mind, was nothing more than a blow dealt at universal suffrage, the electoral period has commenced. PARNELL'S LETTERS.

An Effort to Get Them Before the Commission.

London, Feb. 14.—[By Cable and the Associated Press.] Soames, solicitor for the Times, testified before the Parnell Commission today that he visited Dublin in May, 1888. In cast of suidance. 1888, in quest of evidence. He interviewed a person who was introduced to him as a former employé in the office of the League and who produced a slip bearing the signa-ture of Anna Parnell, specimens of Patrick Egan's handwriting and a bundle of docu-ments. These documents were brought to London in 1888 and embodied in the affida-vit in O'Donneli's suit against Walter for vit in O'Donnell's suit against Walter for libel.

Soames, continuing, produced five letters, including a letter a fac-simile of which was printed in the Times.

Atty-Gen. Webster, in arguing in favor of the admission of letters alleged to have been written by Parnell, let slip the fact that they were received from a man named Philips, said to be an accountant of the League. The court refused to admit the letters.

philips, said to be an accountant of the League. The court refused to admit the letters.

At Atty.-Gen. Webster's request the witness submitted genuine specimens of Parnell's signature.

The Court allowed a question as to whether witness thought the letter which appeared in the Times was genuine.

Soames said he believed the body of the letter was in Campbell's writing, while the signature was Farnell's. When he discovered the Parnell letters, he also came across documents which he supposed to be Egan's. Three of Egan's letters were found in Carri's house, where two letters in Campbell's writing were also discovered. Witness produced these letters together with other specimens of Egan's writing.

At this polat Sir Charles Russell said: "We are only able to give these documents a cursory glanes. The Court must not assume that all will be unquestioned."

Atty.-Gen. Webster rejoined that he did not suppose Sir Charles Russell would admit the genuineness of the letters.

Soames further testified that Richard Pigott gave Parnell letters to Houston, secretary of the Irish Loyal and Patriotic Union, who had given them to Mac Donaid. On cross-examination witness said he was not consulted regarding the publication of the articles on "Parnel and Crime," though he knew they were being prepared early in 1837. Mr. Flanagan, son of the Irish Judges cooperated with a gentleman on the staff of the Times in preparing the articles. Up to January, 1886, twelve letters had been obtained, making a total of 17. He did not know precisely what was paid for the letters. Probably whatever was paid passed through film. A first payment of £1000 was made to Houston. It was partly for the expense of going to America and partly for payment of Dr. Magnire and other assistants. Successive subsequent payments to Houston were £200. £30, £40, £13, £180, £250, £32 and £100. Witness paid Moserabout £300, Kirby £350 and another agent named Thompson £300. Touching Davitt's letter witness said he took pains to form a conclusive opinion. He decided tha

PASADENA'S ELEGANT NEW THE-ATER

A Detailed Description of Its Exterior and interior-Equal to the Best in Los Angeles - Two Per-formances a Week Arranged For-Ever since Pasadena became a city she has wanted a theater, but for some reason the moneyed men of that beautiful place neglected the needs of pleasure-seekers, and for a long time it looked as if Pasadena was destined to see her amusement in Los An-

But ex-Senator L. J. Rose of this city, who owns large interests in Pasadena and vicinity, made up his mind to give the peo-ple of Pasadena a theater that would be an ocnor, not only to their city but to Southern

Mr. Rose got the following pro Zens together: Ben E. Ward, F. M. Ward, W. R. E. Ward, Dr. G. G. Green, G. Roscoe, H. W. O'Melveny, R. M. Furlong and E. C.

They decided to build a $100,000 theater, and a joint stock company was at once formed. The following officers were elected: L. J. Rose, president; E. C. Webster, vice-president; H. M. Furlong, secretary; First National Bank, treasurer.

Messrs. Mackey & Gray of this city were selected as the architects, and they began the construction of the house on the 50th of June, 1887, but the work has dragged for the reason that material was scarce and bor almost unobtainable.

The building faces on Raymond avenue.

labor almost unobtainable.

The building faces on Raymond avenue, and is a two-story pressed-brick structure. It is of the Moorish architecture, and is one of the mest attractive buildings in Pasadena.

The building is modern in all of its features, and will rank with any of the theatures on the coast. It will seat 1100 people comfortably, but at a pinch 1200 can be crowded in. The interior arrangement of the theater is after the style of the Alcuzar in San Francisco, so far as decorations are concerned. The seats are of modern manufacture, and are fully as comfortable as those in either of the theaters in Los Angeles. From every seat in the house a good view of the stage is given. There is only one objection, and that is found in the family circle, or upper boxes. They are cluussily arranged, and it is impossible to see the stage except by hanging over the balcony. The lower boxes, rap perfection, and not only give a good view of the audience, but also of the stage. At the rear of the auditorium are eight boxes, or French loges, for private parties. There are no posts supporting the galiery, and the audience have an unobstructed view of the stage.

The drop curtain and scenery were painted by the famous Seabury of San Francisco. The curtain is also Moorish, and represents a band of musicians and dancing girls.

arrangement of the building

danding girls.

The whole arrangement of the building is complete.

The theater was opened Wednesday night by the Carleton Opera Company in Mynheer Jan, as has aire dy been reported, to as the an audience as ever gathered in a Los Angeles theater. If anything, the Pasadena people are better diressed than the theater-reers of Los Angeles. The box-office sheets showed that over $1000 was taken in. There were quite a number of Los Angeles people present, among whom we noticed Hou. L. J. Rose and family, Maj. Furrey and a party of friends, and many others. President Rose signed a contract with Mr. Wyatt for three years, on Wednesday night, and Mr. Wyatt will give Pasadena two performances a week. All of the best attractions that come to this city will be taken to the new opera-house,

OTHER PASADENA NEWS A Chilly and Rather Quiet Day

PASADENA, Feb. 14.—[Correspondence of THE TIMES.] This morning opened somewhat chiliy, and the futile efforts of the sun to shine made the appearance of things unusually dull. The them when Valentine's day is at hand. The amount of mail matter handled was unsually large and the force of cierks kept constantly busy. At the various stores merchants reported things as very quiet, although in the real-estate offices many applications are being received for houses to rent. The present duliness cannot last long, however, and a good rain would serve to settle the dust and bring out a large number of pedestrians. The army of outgoing numbers is considerably diminished and new facts noticed everywhere, including many of those who left us for the cold and disagreeable weather of the Puget Sound country. AN ACKNOWLEDGMENT.

To those who last night, in true military fashion, remained on sentry duty at the Pasadena Loan Association during the historic first night of the opera house, was youchesfed a token of approval from the upper air not soon to be forgotten. Surely, some Shelk seated in the eighth heaven at least of the Mohammedan P radise, and looking down upon Southern California from that height, set his signet of approval upon the legend, old as Goya and Araby the Blest, that this very epot in which we breath is the lost Terrestrial Paradise of Genesis and the East, From Schor Arevalo's guitar strings had dr pped in succession, and been accented by the violin strokes of his coadjutor, the melodies of "El Jaleo" (The Jenn). If we know all the methods of approach adopted by an enemy we are the better enabled to ward off the danger and postpone the moment when surrender becomes inevitable. In many instances the innerent strength of the body suffices by enable it to oppose the tendency toward death. Many, however, have lost these forces to such an extent that there is little or no help. In other cases a little aid to the weakened lungs will make all the difference between sudden death and many years of useful life. Upon the first symptoms of a cough, cold, or any trouble of the throat or lungs, give that old and well-known remedy—Boschee's German Syrup a careful trial. There is a great deal of complaint about the fence at the corner of Sixth and Spring streets. It is said that work on the building at that point has been suspended, and that the fence should be removed, as it completely blocks the sidewalk and forces pedestrians to walk in the street, dangeronsly near the car-tracks. Some time ago all such obstructions on the street of this character were ordered removed, but from some reason this place was overlooked.

Consumption Can Be Cured

This has been demonstrated in thousands of course treated by

D.R. Will L.I.A.M.S.

With his new ay sum of medicated inbalations, also the oxygen and compound oxygen treatment, combined with proper constitutions remedies for the liver, stomach, b. o. d. etc.

Probably no system of practice ever adopted has been so universall successful as that introduced by Dr. Williams for the ourse of Catarrh, Throat Diseases, Bronchists, Asthmand Consumptin.

CATARRH.

Carrh is often re-arced by the patient as a cold in the head, and he often expresses his action shment at his remarkable tendancy to con ract a fresh cold. Indeed he decisares his second ty free from one cold before he takes another; and he is always exceedingly carry ful. It is a so a matter of surprise by him that the cold alwa, a seems to sottle in the head and the patient used to hope that the disease is ab in to wear off; but shouther class of symptoms soon appear, and he learns to his horror that instead of recovery from the disease it is somewhat changed in its character and has catended to the throat. A sense of weariness is sometimes foll in reading, speaking or singing, hearness that some foreign substitutions of respective as him throat. Unclassified. ORANGE LAND.

NO EXPERIMENT, A company of Chicaro, Los Angeles and Biverside capitalists are now planting out a choice strip of kind n the Santa Clara Valley with orange trees. This land is logated at "Sespe," fitty-four 56 miles from Los Angeles, on the Sou herr Pacific Builroad. The soit, climate and surroundings approach hearer to the fa neural title raide orange tract than any other portion of the State.

The troes now here bearing fruit are clean, free from all insect pe-ts, and their fruit perfect in every part cruliar.

There are still one hundred acres of choice orange land that will be sold at one-half the schedul-1 price and trees furnished at cost for landing out. Arrangements can be made to lave them cared for at actual cost kill the caring period.

This opportunity is oren till the trees are
